

U. S. AND CANADA SOON TO UNITE ON WATERWAY

Exchange of Notes on Di- version Given Out.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Events are moving toward the signing of a comprehensive agreement of great lakes and St. Lawrence river navigation and hydro-electric power between the United States and Canada, and an agreement of cooperative undertakings to develop and conserve these water resources.

The transpired today following is: The state department of the United States and Great Britain occupied by Canada's protests against the war department permit to divert 100 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan.

Hint at Reprisals.

In this correspondence Canada hints at demands that may be made on the United States for alleged damage to Canadian navigation and power in the St. Lawrence river flow at the diversion. It is threatened to block the St. Lawrence project unless the diversion of Lake Michigan water were reduced to a fraction of the present amount.

The United States committed to the question of the Chicago diversion in the consideration of the engineering problems of the St. Lawrence project and the administration of the river views with favor the negotiation of an agreement with Canada covering the entire group of related questions pertaining to the diversion of the great lakes and St. Lawrence river to the two countries.

What It Would Embrace.

The contemplated understanding would embrace the following matters:

1. Construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, enabling ocean ships to penetrate to all the lakes and development of the incidental water power by the United States and Canada as a joint undertaking at a cost now estimated at $27,000,000.

2. An accord on the conservation of lake levels, involving an authoritative ascertainment of climatic influences, a revision of the treaty authorizing Canada to divert 35,000 and the United States 30,000 second feet at Niagara falls, an agreed restriction of the diversion at Chicago and the Welland canal, and compensating works in the St. Clair and Niagara rivers to offset lake withdrawals.

3. Preservation of the scenic beauty of Niagara falls by the construction of concrete islands in the Niagara river, so as to regard, in the future, the gradual destruction of the falls by erosion. As a result of the present course and velocity of the river, the crest of the falls has been worn back 110 feet in 19 years, causing rapids to develop that at no remote time Niagara will cease to be a water fall and become merely rapids.

See Early Settlements.

Administration officials are of the opinion that the United States and Canada will get down to a settlement of all these questions before long, possibly as soon as the way is cleared for definite, concrete consideration of the St. Lawrence seaway project. This undertaking is now being studied by a joint commission of American and Canadian engineers, while the economic aspects are being surveyed by the St. Lawrence waterway commission, of which Secretary of Commerce Hoover is chairman.

The reports of both these bodies will be completed and turned by May 1, next, and then it will be up to the United States and Canada to decide whether to undertake the project. It is not the intention of the administration in any such negotiations to waive the claim that Lake Michigan is strictly an American and in no sense a boundary body of water and that, therefore, Canada is not justified in objecting to any diversion therefrom. It is contemplated, however, that an adjustment will be reached whereby Canada will be satisfied on the score of the Chicago diversion without raising the question of the status of Lake Michigan, just as this matter was dodged in the treaty governing the diversion of Niagara falls.

The American contention is that Canada was allowed 35,000 second feet against the American 20,000 second feet diversion because of the tacit understanding that Chicago was to be allowed to divert up to 10,000 second feet. Canada denies there was any such understanding.

The dispute over the Chicago diversion is now at a standstill, each government standing its ground. The correspondence was published as the result of a demand in the Canadian parliament.

Just before the present permit for 2000 second feet was issued on March 2, last, by Secretary of War Weeks, Canada expressed the hope that the diversion would be limited strictly to the essential health requirements of that city. After the permit is issued expressed surprise at the doubling of the permitted flow.

Canada Is Not Satisfied.

Secretary of State Kellogg replied that the 1924 diversion was 3,700 second feet and that the average flow would be from 1,750 to 2,000 feet less by 1933. Canada was not satisfied with this explanation and in a note dated Sept. 15, 1925, injected the threat to halt consideration of the St. Lawrence seaway project.

The last note in this series was Secretary Kellogg's rejoinder on Nov. 24, 1925, in which occur these passages:

"In the judgment of the secretary of war, the average diversion which should be authorized for sanitary purposes under the conditions known to exist should be not less than 3,500 cubic feet per second."

"The Canadian government is correct in concluding that no immediate reduction in diversions has been provided, and in its contention that no definite reduction is assured and that the effect of the permits will actually be to authorize a greater diversion than is now being made cannot be confirmed. The gross flow at Lockport will not exceed an average of 6,700 cubic feet per second, and by the time the permit of March 2, 1926, has expired the gross flow may be reduced to 5,000 cubic feet per second and probably to 4,700 cubic feet per second. The sewage treatment program of the sanitary district has been arranged so as to make it possible to effect a reduction to a gross flow of 4,157 cubic feet per second by the year 1933 or before."

COUNTRESS OF WARWICK GIVES BIG ESTATE FOR LABOR COLLEGE

(Copyright, 1926, by the New York Times.)

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Easton lodge, the country seat of the Countess of Warwick, was today formally handed over by its owner to the general council of the Trades Union congress to be used as a labor college. There will be dormitory accommodation for 500 students of both sexes. The curriculum will include economics, industrial history, and the study of labor problems. It has always been one of the proclaimed grievances of labor that the great English universities and public schools which were originally founded for poor students have become the preserves of the rich. Easton lodge is designed as a step towards the provision of adequate adult labor education.

The American contention is that Canada was allowed 35,000 second feet against the American 20,000 second feet diversion because of the tacit understanding that Chicago was to be allowed to divert up to 10,000 second feet. Canada denies there was any such understanding.

EDITOR DEFENDS RIGHT TO DOUBT GOD'S EXISTENCE

Blasphemy Trial Opens; Speech Described.

Brocton, Mass., Feb. 24.—(Special.)

The trial of Anton Binba, hitherto inconspicuous Lithuanian editor of Brooklyn, N. Y., on charges of blasphemy, under a Massachusetts statute enacted more than three centuries ago, began in District court today.

Binba, who is also charged with sedition in connection with statements advocating overthrow of the government, was defended by in imposing array of counsel.

A thronged courtroom listened to state witnesses testify that Binba, in a speech at Lithuanian National hall on Jan. 25, denied the existence of a God and advocated that his listeners free themselves from obedience to governments and churches.

Asks Proof of God.

Anthony W. Eudaco, the state's principal witness and himself a naturalized Lithuanian, gave his version of the speech made by his radical countryman. He said Binba, speaking in the Lithuanian tongue, asserted that God was a fiction and that there was a God and then he asked who could prove it, and declared there was no proof.

He quoted Binba as saying: "Christianity has been ruling for 2,000 years and what do we get out of it? Nothing. There are some who believe in Christ, but Christ refused the water which was offered him and was afraid to die, and there are a thousand Christs today who are better than Christ was then. The ministers tell you men have souls—I've got a soul on my shoe."

Eudaco said that in the second part of the speech Binba asserted American workers were suffering more today than the workers of Europe and that the red flag would soon be flying over Washington.

Other witnesses testified Binba advocated overthrow of the government.

Refuse to End Case.

The hearing began after Judge C. Carroll King overruled defense motions for dismissal of the complaints on the ground the blasphemy charge was unconstitutional. Judge King, however, took cognizance of the unique character of the charges by saying that he was familiar with the divergence of opinion among the new Americans and that he wished they might learn to adjust their differences in matters of church and other things without bringing them into court, but the situation was before him and he must hear the evidence.

GROWING VALUE OF YEN IMPERILS TRADE IN JAPAN

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

TOKIO, Feb. 24.—The abnormal increase in the value of the yen on the exchange is thoroughly disorganizing the Japanese exports and is worrying the financiers. Cotton textiles today are selling below the cost of the raw materials bought months ago.

Striving to prevent speculation, the finance minister today said he will lift the gold embargo only when the yen is at par and there is a favorable trade balance.

PARENTS WEEP OVER CLEWLESS MAFIA MURDER

But No Trace Is Found of Ex-Soldier's Slay.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

"I don't know how she happens," an old man wailed, straining his shoulders until his neck was covered in sweat. "The bambino he leava de house maybe two, three clock. The signora and me go de bed eight clock. Somebody knock de door, tell me my bambino he dead."

"O, measter, somebody kills de boy, and now he never come home again to see mamma and me. I no understand why dey looks de bambino." Well, nobody else seemed to know who did the killing or why, at the inquest into the midnight murder of Eola, "Eagle" Baldelli, world war veteran who lived with his old parents at 714 South Oakley boulevard.

Deputy Coroner Lee Dunne and Capt. Charles McGinn of the West Chicago avenue police station drove for three hours yesterday afternoon in the territory of Anthony Apollaro, 1619 Grand avenue, to sift out of the Latin immigrants some tangible point on which to start the solution of the latest assassination in the Italian feud that have rocked the city.

There was old August Baldelli, 60 years of age, whose married hands are pointed hopefully as he testified.

All Three Sons Are Soldiers.
Beside him, old and sad, was Michael, his wife. She rocked to and fro, reaching up under an almost opaque veil to dab a tearful eyelid. Her face was pale, her eyes were red.

And she told of Martin being in the 3d cavalry in Washington, D. C., while Frank was in the 7th cavalry in Texas; and how both were coming to the funeral. The funeral, she said, would take place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the home to Mount Carmel cemetery, and seven soldiers were coming down from Fort Sheridan to give the murdered lad a military funeral.

A Good, Hard Working Boy.
Eola had worked three years for the postoffice, and night work made him ill—the gas, the engine, the noise was such a good boy, was her monotonous refrain. He had been driving a truck; had no bad companions that she knew of; and always came home early. Indeed, the stunned parents thought he was asleep in the next room until the detectives came to tell her somebody had taken her bambino for a ride.

The ride began—no one knows where—and ended when somebody turned the battered choppy and bolted, riding body on an axle pile in the alley between 407 and 411 North Curtis street between 11 and 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

George Garland, Pinkerton night watchman, found the body. It wasn't lying among the cinders at 11 because he had passed the spot; it was there at 11:30 because he found it.

Sergeant Tella Blunder Claws.
Sergeant Edward F. Blatter, tall, alert police officer, told of responding to Garland's phone call and finding the body. Fresh auto tracks, the trench showing the night avenger had driven from

Jury Gets Vinci's Fate Today; Hanging or Asylum Is Issue

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Sam Vinci as a social problem will be in the hands of a jury this afternoon.

The state, through Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy, asked yesterday that he be hanged to pay for the killing of John Minatti, gangster and moonshine peddler, last November. The decision of the jury depends upon the instructions and verdict forms given by Judge William N. Gammill. Frank A. McDonnell, for the defense, says Sam is an epileptic, half blind, and has only a few years to live. He insists a verdict that Sam was insane at the time of the killing and is still insane would commit the slayer to an asylum and satisfy society. The state lawyers maintain that an insanity decision can be expressed only in an acquittal verdict.

Rama Actions Emphasized.
Mr. Levy stated the hard facts of the case to the jury, reading the Vinci statement after the shooting, in which he seemed of such clear mind and realization that an insanity defense, he declared, is hard to predicate. Emphasis was laid upon the deliberateness of the shooting.

Mr. McDonnell, now crooning to the jury in a way that made one or two of them cry a little, now shouting in wrath, were into his appeal all the atmosphere of the gangland in which Vinci lived, all the realization that Vinci faced before he was moved to kill, saying that they were enough to drive a sane man to extremes.

"Lave the case," he said. "Put yourself in his place. What would you have done?"
He pictured the inquest room, "with came to Chicago with John Scallan, one of the Genna gangsters now on trial for the murder of a policeman, and he is suspected of being one of the killers of the Morici brothers, Stige added.

Every effort is to be made today to prevent their release. Judge John P. McGovern is to pass upon their habeas corpus writ at 10 o'clock and if the warrants haven't arrived then the authorities will seek delay.

Among the prisoners of last night was Patsy Amore, 1163 Vernon Park place. He had in his possession a letterhead bearing the following: "Delegations Faciatis per L'Ilmo. Pasco Italiano D. Chicago, 1543 Larrabee street, Room 1."

He was born in this country, he said, but spent his youth in Italy. He was a Fascist there and is now interested in spreading the movement here, he stated.

Other Suspects Held.
Among others held after examination last night are: Sam Sorta, 28, laborer, 948 South Claremont avenue; James Scarfaro, 45, cook, 904 West Taylor street; Peter Defano, 35, laborer, 917 South Racine avenue; Giaccone Mimi, 25, laborer, 1101 Newberry avenue; Louis Scannicko, 24, laborer, 908 West Taylor street; Lopez Pannico, 35, laborer, 1440 Flournoy street; Peter Gallo, 745 South Halsted

Dr. W. O. Krohn, as the last witness for the state, gave the expert opinion that Vinci was sane enough to distinguish right from wrong at the time of the shooting.

Sam wanted good-bye to his mother and smiled weakly as he left the courtroom last night. His old mother in the black shawl might fit into the picture of "The Miracle," but she is out of place in a courtroom, for she could not understand the talk of the lawyers.

In the Absentminded murder trial, which is scheduled to open soon, two defendants were temporarily accepted yesterday. The eighth special venire of 100 will be called this morning.

MORRILL PIOUSLY DENIES BATHING SCENE AT PARTY

Dry Agents Seem Interested; Press Agent Stunt?

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The dry agents and press agents started checking out today on a party thrown by Mrs. Carroll, theatrical producer, on the stage of the theatre, at which it was reported a nude girl bathed in wine.

The dry agents want to ascertain what was used. May Call Nixed Guests. The guests who may be summoned by authorities included, it is reported, the following: Countess of Cathcart, in disguise on charges that her admission to the United States will impede the moral; Harry K. Thaw, who is charged with the death of Stanford White; and other persons of the higher social culture; Irvin, author, and others.

Vera Denies Orgy. Lady Cathcart denied the bathtub scene.

"While I was at the party nothing occurred to which any one could take the least exception," she said. "It was a wonderful party. We do not have such affairs in England. The guests were without exception, and gentlemen."

From another guest, however, came another story. "Whisky, charged water, and champagne occupied prominent places on the stage," he said.

Later, this eye witness said, Carroll announced that he had a "great surprise." A bathtub was rolled on to the stage. Mrs. Carroll poured wine into the tub. When it was nearly full Joyce Sawyer, wearing a single garment, approached the tub. A curtain was lifted between her and the audience. Then she stepped into the tub, the wine coming to her neck.

"I stepped forward," Carroll, he was held back. "There was a woman for glasses. In a moment the tub was surrounded by men dipping in wine, which they downed in silence."

The twenty minutes of bathos and the young woman in the tub was visited off the stage. Lady Cathcart left soon afterward.

IT'S A BOY

Leonora Hughes, former dancer, became the mother of a baby boy a week ago. She is now Mrs. Carlos Basualdo.

LEONORA'S BABY ALREADY SHOWS SIGNS OF DANCER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 24.—A baby boy was born last Wednesday to Leonora Hughes Basualdo, former dancing partner of Maurice, who married Carlos Basualdo, Argentine millionaire, a year ago today. The infant weighed nine pounds, according to word from the Riviera, where the Basualdos are now. The child has not yet been named, but that ceremony will take place in a few days.

"The baby kicks as if he were going to be a dancer," said Leonora today. But Papa Basualdo frowned, indicating that no boy of his is going to be a dancer if he has anything to say on the subject.

The Basualdos arrived on the Riviera a couple of weeks ago after a trip around the world as their honeymoon. They are leading a quiet life in a little villa.

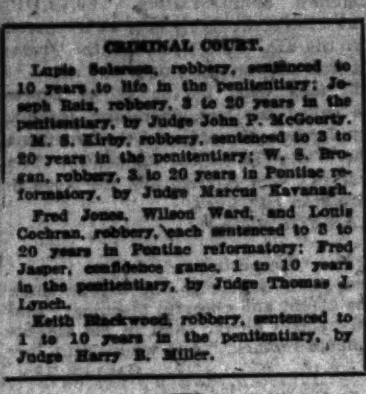

The couple will bring the infant to Paris in a couple of weeks.

GOFF SAYS FEAR MADE HIM HELP SLAY NUSBAUM

Cops Near, He Told None of Winn's Plot.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
Suppose a tall, able bodied young man promises another man to hold up an old carpenter, for his papers and some $1,400 to $1,500 in cash money. Suppose he actually purchases the cartridges for the gun with which he is to turn the trick. Suppose he feigns illness at the last to get out of pulling the job. Then suppose, some ten days later, he aids in the murder of that old carpenter, and in confessing his share in the killing apologizes that he gave his assistance only because of his deadly terror of that other man.

Just how much credence would you place in the story?

This is the perplexing question which yesterday engaged the attention of the twelve men in the jury box in Judge Emanuel Heller's courtroom.

Trying Grandmas and Lover. The twelve are trying Grandma Ellen Nusbaum, 61, and John Walton Winn, 37, her somewhat youthful lover, for the murder Dec. 28, 1925, of Grandpa Albert Nusbaum, the old carpenter. But since Edward Grant Goff, one of the three who already have pleaded guilty to a part in the crime, is the principal state's witness, the down of jurors have to "give" considerable thought to his own guilt or innocence.

Goff, who is the tall, able bodied man, said again and again yesterday from the witness stand that you should not credence plenty in his story.

That first plan to hold up Grandpa Nusbaum, "in the alley between the lumber yard and the brewery, on the night of Dec. 17, 1925, as he was going to see his son, Roscoe," should but emphasize the fear in which he stood of Winn. That whole episode, with its alleged use of illness to get out of pulling the stickup, is a logical stepping stone, he insists, to the obligatory participation in the old man's murder at the point of Winn's menacing gun.

But Attorney Rocco De Stefano, the lawyer whom the court appointed to defend Winn, has an entirely different viewpoint. He outlined it again and again yesterday afternoon as he put Goff, through a rigorous cross-examination. "The fact that Goff, within easy reach of the police, agreed to act burglar, to turn over the papers to Winn, but to keep the cash money for himself, and the fact that he went and bought cartridges for his own .38 automatic, just about nullifies, Attorney De Stefano pointed out, any plea that Goff was forced into aiding Winn in Grandpa's murder.

Back and forth these facts oscillated between Assistant State's Attorney Louis Getman and Attorney De Stefano.

So far at Four Delinquent. For instance, Mr. De Stefano, remarks: "Do you mean to tell us that you are an able bodied, tall young man who are afraid of Winn, here, that you went and bought cartridges for your gun, and went over to the Nusbaum residence to get the lay of the land there, and never went and reported your fears to the police?"

Goff reflects but a moment, when he replies: "But I was afraid of Winn, and of his gang!"

A moment's pause, then: "Why, Big Bill and Red No. 1, never saw them, but they drove by in a machine once and he said that's who they were, and they'd bump me off if I didn't do what he told me to do."

"Well, are you still afraid of Winn?" Mr. De Stefano inquires.

Goff surprises the court room, by hunching forward a bit in his chair and saying:

"Yes, I have fears of my own, now."

Winn, who looks like a caricature from Dickens, rolls his starry blue eyes around and looks almost amused.

Toward the close of the session the attorneys have a battle, in chambers, over the admittance into testimony of remarks which Winn is alleged to have made to Goff, following their arrest. The state wins and the remarks go in.

Charges Brio Offer. At the bureau of identification, shortly after their arrest, and in the bullpen to Judge Heller's court room, some time this week, Winn, so Goff insists, said:

"You plead guilty. Then you'll get life. If you have any way out of jail, and everything will be all right."

Mrs. Delilah Martin, in whose kitchen Grandpa Nusbaum was beaten to death, will be the state's first witness this morning.

WOMAN DENTIST SUES HUSBAND; CHARGES CRUELTY

Mrs. Ethel Jacobson Cole, well known woman dentist, formerly of Pittsburgh, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday from Henry David Cole, University of Chicago graduate, whom she charged with non-support.

Since their marriage a year ago Mrs. Cole has given her husband $24,000, she asserted in the bill filed by Attorney Frank T. Jordan. Now she thinks it is time for Cole to contribute money to her support. He is well able to do so, she said, having an income of $15,000 a year from an interest he owns in the Cohen Jewelry company, 1215 South Halsted street, owned by his mother.

Mrs. Cole also charged cruelty.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN ARRIVES HOME AFTER MONTH IN FLORIDA

Cardinal Mundelein, refreshed by four weeks of Florida sunshine, much swimming, and some golf, slipped quietly into Chicago on the Florida late yesterday afternoon, accompanied by his secretary, the Very Rev. Mr. B. J. Shell, who had been his companion during the vacation at the Chardon hotel, Daytona Beach, Fla.

They were met at the Illinois Central station by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Edward F. Hoban and Father Francis A. Ryan, who escorted them immediately to the cardinal's residence at North avenue and Dearborn street. His eminence plunged at once into work for the coming eucharistic congress to be held here next June.

Just about the time word had got about that the cardinal had returned to his residence, the evening edition of the Chicago Tribune reported that he had not met him earlier in the day reported, however, that he was delighted with his vacation and delighted with his return to work.

Cardinal Mundelein, who has been in the south, have put him in fine physical condition, his friends declared.

IRISH FREE STATE, ENGLAND TO HAVE FREE AUTO TRADE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 24.—The automobile trade is greatly excited by news that the Free State government has agreed with the British government to remove all motor taxes both ways. This trade will be free between the Free State and Great Britain and northern Ireland. Trade is momentarily paralyzed and buyers are not purchasing.

Meanwhile, the question arises why is the Free State government agreeing to the arrangement? The opinion is that the government is foregoing the revenue from this source in order to protect Henry Ford's interest in Cork and Manchester. Ford manufactures engines and accessories in Cork, which are sent to Manchester to Ford's assembling factory. It is suggested that Ford insists on a remission of the tax under a threat of closing down his Cork factory.

In agreeing, the Free State government loses heavily in revenue, which it is rumored will be replaced with a luxury tax.

ARMON SUBJECT IS ARRESTED.

David Collins, 38 years old, residing in Des Moines, Ill., for arms and safekeeping, arrested at 232 and Wabash avenue by Sgt. Leonard Burch and squad from the detective bureau.

TRAFFIC COURT GETS FUNDS; TO OPEN MARCH 15

Council Reserves $15,000 to Establish It.

Chicago's new Traffic court, where fines will be paid for violations of the traffic ordinance without trial, will be set in motion by March 15 as the result of action of the city council yesterday.

An appropriation of $15,000 to set up the new bureau was voted by the council and the funds were made available immediately. At the same time the council approved lease of space in the Oxford building, 112 North La Salle street, to accommodate the bureau.

James A. Kearns, clerk of the Municipal court, announced that his department would be ready to handle the records by March 15, and Chief Justice Harry Olson said that everything was ready for establishment of the new branch. Judge William Helander has been assigned by Judge Olson to provide over the court.

Under the new system persons accused of violations of the ordinance will be given a fine with their particular offense checked. They may appear at the court any time within thirty-six hours, admit the offense, waive trial, and pay a specific fine.

The new procedure will be a matter of minutes instead of hours. Offenders admitting violations may send an office boy or a messenger with their fine to the judge in charge.

ENVOY PREDICTS RAPID ADVANCE OF IRISH WEALTH

River-Shannon Will Drive Dynamos.

Gauged by its economic status, there probably is no country in Europe that may face the future with a greater sense of security or a brighter hope for development than the Emerald Isle, Timothy P. Smiddy, minister of the Irish Free State to the United States, said yesterday. He addressed the luncheon meeting of the ways and means committee of the Association of Commerce at the La Salle hotel.

To discuss the amount of freedom in Ireland under the Free State government would be to enter into the moieties of political philosophy, Mr. Smiddy stated, but Ireland enjoys the same constitutional status as Canada, which is conceded to be liberal, and there remains among the Irish people little of the old-time hatred against England.

Eight per cent of the exports of the country are agricultural, and a very high standard of excellence in them is maintained by government regulation, he said. The industrial possibilities of Ireland, on the other hand, have hardly been tested, and it is the aim of the government to develop these assets.

Chief among the projects contemplated for this development is the hydro-electric power of the River Shannon, the largest river in England, Scotland, or Ireland. The estimated cost of that work is $25,000,000. When completed in three years' time power will be furnished to every community in the country of 500 or more population.

Ireland is a creditor nation, with no foreign debt, an internal debt of $75,000,000, equal to only six per cent of the government's income for one year. Investments of Irish Free State citizens in England and foreign countries are calculated at approximately one billion dollars, according to Mr. Smiddy.

WOMEN ACT TO INTEREST GIRLS IN CLUB WORK

Federation Leader Urges Junior Organizations.

Delegates from 119 women's organizations, representing 50,000 Chicago women, yesterday attended the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Women's Organizations at the Morrison hotel to discuss ways and means of interesting girls from 15 to 25 years old in carrying on the work of the mother clubs.

The meeting was addressed by Mrs. Martin Kent Northam, chairman of the junior membership committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Northam outlined plans for creating junior organizations to be affiliated with the women's clubs of the city.

"If we lose the young women, we have lost our cause and woman's accomplishments so far will have meant nothing," she said.

Urges Plans to Interest Juniors.

Junior membership should be a vital part of every woman's organization. Because it has been too strictly supervised in the past, younger women have lost interest in the junior membership movement. A more liberal program, encouraging youth to express its own ideas, should be adopted.

Attractive programs, to interest college organizations and junior leagues.

members, might include a study of the foreign girl's problem, Mrs. Northam said. Girls of foreign parentage, and those from Japan, China, and India, need just the sort of assimilation which the enthusiastic young American could further, she pointed out.

"Train the Young Women."

"Bring in your young women," Mrs. Northam advised, "and teach them what 15 years' experience have taught the mother clubs. Train them to deal with civic, political, and cultural problems as we have learned to deal with them."

William D. Salts, president of the Junior Association of Commerce, told what that organization of young men has been able to accomplish within five years. Working in collaboration with the Chicago Association of Commerce, these junior members have aided the parent organization materially, he said. He told of the planting of 100,000 trees in the city last spring by enlisting cooperation of the civic industrial clubs of the high schools.

DUNNE FACTION WARS ON ALL BUT JARECKI, HORNER

Hunt Candidates Against Switzer and Carr.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Two candidates on the regular Democratic organization slate resolved the O. K. of the Dunne-Lewis-O'Connell machine yesterday. They are County Judge Jarecki and Probate Judge Horner. With these two exceptions the Dunne-Lewis-O'Connell Democrats intend to make a fight all down the line against the Brennan slate. It was announced.

One week from today is the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the county primary. By that time the Democratic irregulars say they hope to have acquired strong candidates to oppose County Treasurer Pat Carr for sheriff, and against County Clerk Bob Switzer.

Plan Municipal Court Slates.
The Dunne-Lewis-O'Connell group will be at the post with a Municipal court ticket on March 12, the first filing day, William L. O'Connell, chairman of the combine, announced. Several places on the partial county ticket they trotted out Tuesday probably will be filled in a day or two, he said.

George E. Brennan and other leaders of the Democratic regulars, who have been vacationing at Hot Springs, Ark., the last two weeks, are expected back tomorrow. They are all set for the county primary campaign, but still have the matter of a candidate for United States senator to dispose of.

National Committeeman Brennan was urged to run himself when two prospective candidates staked themselves. The regulars were willing to support former Senator James Hamilton Lewis when he declined to run. They were particularly enthusiastic to support Bruce Campbell of East St. Louis, and although he tried to discourage the boom, heavy pressure is being brought to bear on him by both Chicago county and downtown leaders.

Two Ex-Governors Active.
Two former governors of Minnesota, both Chicagoans now, visited Crowe-Barratt headquarters in the Sherman at separate times yesterday. They were Adolph O. Eberhart and Jacob A. O. Prens. Mr. Eberhart, who was governor of the Gopher state from 1898 to 1915, indicated he may take the stump for the Crowe-Barratt county ticket.

Mr. Eberhart has resided in Chicago for several years since establishing connections with a security investment concern. Former Gov. Prens, a lawyer, has spent much of his time here since he quit the governorship in 1923, and expects to become a permanent resident of Chicago.

Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Idaho), who followed his two day anti-trust court battle here with a visit to Wisconsin on the same mission, stayed last night to take a train back to Washington.

Miss Cope also has a complaint. She has taken action against the landlady, Mrs. Anna C. Olsen, asserting that her apartment was insufficiently heated.

McKINLEY SENDS PLEA TO PRESIDENT FOR AID AGAINST BORAH, REED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Possibility that Chicago may be the center of the world court battle which many of the administration senators will have to fight in the primaries this year developed today when Senator McKinley (Rep., Ill.) appealed to President Coolidge to send nationally known speakers to Chicago to counteract the impression made in recent speeches by Senator Reed (Dem., Mo.) and Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho).

Senator McKinley told the President that the anti-administration speeches made by the two in their attacks on the world court had undoubtedly made an impression and he advised that administration speakers be sent into that territory.

CHICAGO BRANCH BANKERS ASK FOR CHANGES IN BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Bankers representing small institutions in outlying sections of Chicago and Milwaukee appeared before the senate committee on banking and currency today to ask the inclusion of what they regard as safeguards against branch banking in the McFadden banking bill.

They urged the committee to retain the so-called Hull amendments of the house bill, which would prohibit national banks from establishing branches in states where state banks now do not have the privilege, even if the state legislatures at some future time permit branches.

While the McFadden bill permits national banks to engage in city-wide branch banking only in the states where state banks have the privilege, the middle western group, representing the smaller banks, want the national banks forever barred from the establishment of branches in the other states, even though their state laws are changed.

Those appearing before the committee included Isaac N. Powell of the Washington Park National bank of Chicago and William J. Rathke of the Mid-City Trust and Savings bank of Chicago.

ROBERT SCOTT TO STAND TRIAL HERE AS SLAYER

Return from California
Gets Official O. K.

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—On receiving assurances that the fugitive will be vigorously prosecuted, Gov. Richardson today announced that he will issue a warrant for the extradition of Robert Scott, alias John Redding, San Quentin prison inmate, who is wanted in Chicago for sharing in the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug store clerk.

Russell Scott, Robert's brother, now is in the Chester, Ill., asylum for the criminal insane. Both were accused of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Maurer.

Gov. Richardson will recommend to the state board of prison directors, which meets at San Quentin on Friday, to parole Scott to the Illinois authorities.

Governor Fears Sobs, Fla.
Recently Gov. Richardson said he would not grant the request until he had been assured that State's Attorney Crowe of Cook county, Illinois, would exert all his influence against "mobsters" who, the governor asserted, had come to Russell Scott's defense. He also charged a plot had been hatched by Scott's attorney to free him in Chicago.

In commenting on the Scott case, Gov. Richardson said: "In order that Scott may be brought back to California, should he be released in Chicago, I have suggested to the members of the prison board that he be paroled in California so that the Illinois officers can take him back to Chicago."

Wants Prison Term Served.
"I propose to make every effort to see that if justice miscarries in Chicago Scott will have to complete his sentence here. From the letters of the governor of Illinois and the state's attorney at Chicago, I am fully convinced that they intend to use every endeavor to convict this criminal."

GERMANY JOINS WORLD IN PEACE —STRESEMAN

Sees Changed Attitude Toward Berlin.

Some of the leading statesmen of today are collaborating in a series of articles defining the part which their respective nations hope to play in the combined task of applying the Locarno spirit to problems of the future and the building of that new world to which all men are looking.

BY GUSTAV STRESEMAN.

(Copyright, 1936, by The United States by the New York Times Company, Inc., in the United States by the London Morning Post, in Canada by the Montreal Gazette.)

The subject, "Our New World," to which I was asked by the Morning Post to contribute, is of such enormous importance for all nations that I have much pleasure in availing myself of the opportunity offered of sketching for the better understanding of public opinion abroad the road which led Germany from the termination of the great war to the conclusion of the pact of Locarno.

Cause of Trouble.

With regard to Germany, its state of political degradation and economic ruin was caused by the political and economic effects of the treaty of Versailles which culminated in the occupation of the Ruhr district and a collapse of currency unparalleled in the history of the world. Also, from an international economic standpoint Germany, a country of tremendous consuming capacity, was turned into a vacuum. In view of the economic interrelations existing between all nations of the world, the destruction of Germany's purchasing power proved detrimental to other nations as well. Thus gradually and unfortunately rather late it became more and more recognized that the restoration of Germany's economic system and a stabilization of her finances were common interests equally affecting Germany and other nations participating in the economic system of the world. The Dawes plan, an American loan, and the moratorium, producing some relief, at least for a short period of time, were consequences of the recognition of this fact.

Steps at Locarno.

The second Locarno conference, held in August, 1924, which led to the Dawes agreement, marked in the first place definite progress toward financial relaxation in Germany and toward Germany's subsequent reinstatement in the economic system of the world. The previous conference held at Spa, London, and Gineva, were bound to remain sterile.

Now that an understanding had been arrived at in the domain of economics it was hoped that a similar understanding might be made with reasonable prospects of success to remove from the domain of international politics all the antagonisms, sometimes acute, causing a state of permanent political insecurity from which Europe was suffering. It was this expectation which led to the issuance on Feb. 9, 1925, of the German memorandum concerning the so-called security problem. Thus I hoped to carry out with Germany's cooperation and in a manner doing equal justice to the interests of all nations concerned the program proposed by M. Herriot in his speech Jan. 20, 1925, culminating in three words—reparation, security, and disarmament. Further milestones on this road was the replacement of the method of change of notes by a system of direct conversations. The meeting of legal experts in London and the discussion of fundamental political questions at Locarno led us to a solemn signing of the Locarno pact in London and subsequently to our application for admission to the league of nations.

Reality of Germany.

FIFT ORDERS LAWYER TO WITHDRAW HER SUIT FOR DIVORCE

New York, Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna U. Stillman has ordered her attorney, former Judge Isaac H. Mills, who returned today from Florida, to withdraw her suit for divorce against James A. Stillman, with whom she is now abroad on a "second honeymoon."

Mills said today he would prepare a stipulation withdrawing the suit in a few days and submit it to Cornelius J. Sullivan, Mr. Stillman's chief counsel. The suit was instituted last fall and the papers served on Mr. Stillman. The latter, however, had not made his reply when the two became reconciled and sailed for Europe.

which your readers are familiar, should like to add a few words on their true significance. In a political sense Locarno means the rebirth of Germany into the concert of Europe, and thereby the beginning of European cooperation in politics. The future must show how the political machine laid down in the pact will be practically applied to individual cases.

Yet the general psychological significance of Locarno appears to me even more important than this practical application. The statesmen who concluded the pact could only recommend its adoption to their respective countries on the assumption that the political distrust prevailing heretofore would be replaced by mutual confidence.

Germany's acceptance of the pact signifies her firm determination to cooperate actively in the great international problems of our time.

We are standing at the gates of a new era. If all nations are animated by good will to continue to work together on the basis of Locarno, there are no more barriers to the great goal in which all nations are equally interested, namely, the pacification of Europe.

COMMONS TOLD CATHCART CASE IS U. S. AFFAIR

No Plan to Ask Reciprocal Immigration Laws.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright, 1936, by The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Answering questions in the commons today, based on the Commons of Cathcart case, Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, said he could not set on step questions that American consular visas should be equivalent to final admission into the United States.

He also declared the members were basing their questions on a statement attributed to the Commons of Cathcart that she had communicated with him and had received an answer. The only answer, he said, was a formal one.

He further declared that he did not propose to confer with the American authorities with a view to making immigration restrictions reciprocal.

Commander Kenworthy, Liberal, asked if it was possible to keep people out of Great Britain on moral grounds, and Sir Austen replied:

"We have the power to exclude any alien. The particular offense charged in the Cathcart case is charged differently in the American law. I understand, then with us, and therefore I do not think we could wisely undertake to exclude people by questions in this house, to the people of the United States how they will administer their laws or what their laws will be."

HOME CURED MEAT KILLS THREE, OTHERS ILL, INSPECTOR FINDS

Three people have died and five others are critically ill as the result of eating the poorly cooked flesh of a home slaughtered hog in Chicago Heights recently.

Typical fever had been blamed by city officials, who were puzzled by the deaths, which occurred during the last two weeks. Their fears of an epidemic were allayed when H. R. Radtke, government meat inspector, discovered that a hog killed by Joseph Lambitino was infected.

Those who died were Mrs. Felice Romano, 61 years old, 2805 Commercial avenue; her son, Angelo, 33 years old, and Amy Lambitino, 4 years old, daughter of Joseph. Four more of the Lambitinos are ill, it is said, and Romano may die.

Lambitino, after slaughtering and eating the pork, passed it out to several of his friends. These included the Romano family. Three other families who eat sparingly of the meat have so far escaped serious results.

YANKEE REFUTES EUROPE'S CHARGE U. S. IS WAR RICH

Ex-Director of Mint Is Speaker in Paris.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, Feb. 24.—In a speech before the American Chamber of Commerce here today George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City Bank of New York and former director of the United States mint, emphasized that America was not enriched by the war. He refuted Europe's charge that the United States had gained the wealth in the United States in 1913 and 1925. He stated that the ten year period was less than in the preceding ten years, he said. Individuals gained but the nation fell behind during the war. Mr. Roberts said the aggregate gold reserves of the United States treasury and the national banks in 1914 amounted to 1.7 per cent of the outstanding currency and bank deposit liabilities, while on July 1, 1925, the amount was 7.10 per cent, which was only a small increase compared with the growth in the volume of American international banking.

Demands U. S. Debt Cuts.

Great Britain and the United States were summoned today to reduce their claims for the repayment of France's war debts if they expect the obligations to be accounted. Henry Cheron, chairman of the senate finance committee, in a speech before the upper house here today, which brought considerable applause from the senators. He indicated that his colleagues may ask a fair settlement of France's war debt, which would be repaid in francs—In other words, dollars loaned when the franc was worth 20 cents would be repaid at the same rate of five to a dollar, although the franc now has depreciated to just over three and one-half cents, or nearly twenty-eight to a dollar. This would make a reduction of 80 per cent in France's war debt.

SHELDON CLARK HEADS UNIFORM AUTO CODE BODY

Sheldon Clark, former commander of the Chicago Yacht club, was named chairman of the state-wide committee of 300 to bring about the adoption of the Hoover uniform automobile traffic code at a meeting yesterday in the Hotel La Salle. Charles H. Weston, president of the Chicago Plan commission, Chief of Police Collins, Elmer T. Stevens, chairman of the Association of Commercial Motor Vehicle Owners, George W. Dixon, chairman of Mayor Dever's safety commission, and Murray Emil C. Weston were named as the executive committee. On March 22 committees from all states will meet Secretary Hoover in Washington to discuss the new code, which provides uniform traffic regulations and a uniform system of marking highways and routes.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered until you try this famous home-made remedy. The prompt relief is almost magical. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain water, or sugar syrup to fill a full pint. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membrane in all air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the return of this cool and disagreeable day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold. It is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. ## GERMANS, WARY, EYE PITFALLS ON WAY TO LEAGUE

Ready to Balk Boost in Council.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

(Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, Feb. 24.—German entry into the league of nations, which is slated for March 3, is confronted with so many diplomatic obstacles that a new possibility of a breakdown of the whole peace structure is seen in Berlin political circles. To avoid this Germany has asked that a preparatory conference be held by Premier Briand of France, Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary of England, and Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany in Geneva on March 7, the eve of the session of the league council, to enable them to come to an understanding before they are seated in the council.

Chancellor Luther will head the German delegation. Foreign Minister Stresemann will accompany him. The latter said today he felt convinced that the stumbling blocks will be surmounted by the preparatory conference.

See Stormy Session.
But Berlin diplomatic circles and the German press are prepared for a stormy session at Geneva. The diplomats report that secret negotiations have been going on between France, England, and Germany in which the allies offer a partial evacuation of the second and third zones in the Rhineland in exchange for the German consent to broaden the permanent council at Geneva, which is not provided in the Locarno agreement.

Germany does not oppose Spain's nomination to the permanent council, but fears Spain's admission will entail the admission of Poland. Germany squarely opposes Poland's nomination to the permanent council. German public opinion agrees unanimously that Germany must withdraw its application for entry into the league if a change is made in the membership of the council. This would change all the conditions under which Germany filed its application, "tomorrow's Berliner Tageblatt," formerly a staunch supporter of Germany's entry into the league, will say.

Block League Increase.
[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Feb. 24.—Despite Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain's public profession of his belief in the advisability of enlarging the permanent membership of the league of nations council, The Tribune is informed that no members besides Germany will be added at the coming session.

Whatever Sir Austen's personal wishes may be, whatever hopes he held out to the French, the cabinet is definitely against a further increase in March, considering that it would be a breach of faith to Germany and a betrayal of the Locarno treaties.

FENG REFUSES TO LEAD CHINESE TO BATTLE AGAIN

(Copyright: 1926: By The New York Times.)

PEKING, Feb. 24.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu's forces are making a general advance. Sinyang, previously reported captured, has been holding out in a state of siege, with terrible consequences to its inhabitants. This has delayed the movement northward of Wu Pei-fu's army, although another section has captured Kweichow. Hostilities have broken out in Shensi province, where the allies of Wu Pei-fu are fighting the second Kuomintang or national army, allied to Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang. Shensi province also is reported to be ready to throw in its lot with Wu, in which case it would attack in the rear of the Kuomintang that is operating near Sinyang.

An army under Li Ching-lin, who is allied to Marshal Chang Tso-lin of Manchuria, is advancing along the Tientsin-Pukow railway, and is now menacing Machang, not far from Tientsin. On the Manchurian front Chang Tso-lin's troops are becoming active and threaten to advance on Tientsin and Peking.

Kuomintang generals are endeavoring to persuade Feng Yu-hsiang to resume personal command, but he refuses to be done with warfare.

DOHENY APPEALS FROM DECISION REVOKING LEASES

(Copyright: 1926: By The New York Times.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—One phase of the Teapot Dome scandal reached the United States Supreme court today when the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, Doherty interests, appealed from the decision of a United States Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco annulling the Elk Hills leases and freeing the government from any liability for the $16,000,000 naval fuel station built by Doherty at Pearl Harbor.

As a result of the decision of a Wyoming federal district court upholding the validity of the Teapot Dome leases to the Sinclair Oil company and that of the California courts annulling the Doherty leases, the secretary of the navy, the petitions pointed out, is placed in the position where that which is lawful for him to do in Wyoming is unlawful for him to do in California, although in both cases he is acting under the same law of congress.

By Irving Vaughan.
Avalon, Cal., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—The McCarty's Cub regulars did only fairly well in the initial training exhibition with the Goofs this afternoon. Nine runs of muddy and puntable pastime were reeled off and at the conclusion the second stringers were out in front by the formidable margin of 7 to 3.

There was nothing startling about the machine except that the regulars collapsed in two distinct (Tolson and Michaels) spots. The first in the second inning, when four runs were tallied as the result of the pitching of Clayton Kershaw, late of the Eastern League, who was runner over the pen. The other occurred in the fifth inning, when four more tallied as the result of the pitching of Clayton Kershaw, late of the Eastern League, who was runner over the pen.

Capt. Barney Mathews, Northwestern veteran basketball guard, is out for the season, due to a badly twisted knee, Coach Maury Kent announced yesterday afternoon.

Tops Hoppe in 18.1 Billiards

Young Jake Schaefer, champion of 18.1 billiards, is surprising fans by stepping into the 18.1 realm ruled by Willie Hoppe. In an exhibition match completed last night he defeated Hoppe, 1,500 to 1,115, at the 18.1 game.

Good-by, Roxy!

Elmer Hopes Not Forever

Noted Entertainer to Quit the Air for Theater.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Which shall I talk of first, complaints about WGL or Roxy's good-by? I believe WGL. For the letters on my desk voicing disapproval of this station's violation of the silent-film agreement last Monday, with their accumulative weight of feeling would make any one pause. Being personal letters to me, the writers are frank, their phrases and expressions sharp, often bitter.

It should be obvious to all stations by this time that so long as our silent film rule is in effect it cannot be violated, except in case of an address by the President or some other broadside of great importance.

Dr. Sigmond Speech, WGL, 715, in his interesting, carefully illustrated talk on "Rhythm, the most fundamental thing in music," did a rather startling thing by showing that Chopin's Funeral March and Mendelssohn's Wedding March are exactly alike in time and rhythm.

Will WGL please check up on wave length? Sunday night, as well as last night, it was within whistling distance of WGBN.

A bit of solid joy at 7:45; the Schenck and Minus, from Beethoven's Eighth symphony, played by the Drake concert ensemble, WGL. On the Broadway program, KTW, 4, a string trio played many selections from "May Days and Gray Days" (El. H.). arousing curiosity as to the nature of the composition, which, I believe, was not explained.

Mrs. Maria Stedman Smith, soprano, heard last Sunday in the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra, appeared at WMAQ last night, 5:30 to 9, in a captivated one again. She is commonly an ideal soprano, faultless in tone, pitch, interpretation, tempo, diction, phrasing—used any more?

Central Trust company male chorus, WLS, 535. Serious numbers, good to hear. Communicated with proper facility can have the service of the chorus for the asking, and I am happy to write this mention.

Welcome back, our good friends and harmony singers of the past, the Danes Sisters, WHEB, 8. After a year's absence their smooth, sweetly matched voices sounded sweeter and lovelier than ever.

And, now, good-by, Roxy! And farewell to your merry, mad, and any-thing-like-gang! Your theatrical venture may keep you away from the microphone for a while, but keep your promises, Roxy, and come back soon with a greater gang and in greater programs. In the meantime we bid you good-by, but a fond, thankful, affectionate, expectant adieu.

The announcement of Roxy's retirement was made over W-G-N last night, 9 to 10.

BRAD WHITING'S MARITAL TANGLE IN COURT TODAY

The marital tangle of Mrs. Pauline Placed Whitling, society woman, and Bradford Hill Whitling, will be aired in Circuit Judge George Fred Rush's court today. Mrs. Whitling's custody maintenance suit is called there for trial.

Mrs. Whitling's charges stirred society last spring when she brought suit against the young vice president of the Whitling corporation. She named a Jane Doe as correspondent and the identity of that woman was revealed later as Mrs. Marjorie Robinson, daughter of the Martin Howards of 817 Belden avenue.

Find Durkin Even Stole
His Last Gun on Coast
Martha Durkin, captured slayer, had another robbery added yesterday to his long list of crimes when Sgt. Michael Naughton of the detective bureau completed an investigation into the ownership of a revolver carried by the bandit when he was captured in St. Louis recently. The weapon, Sgt. Naughton asserted, was stolen on Dec. 28 from the home of Julian Levy, 1437 North Kenmore drive, Hollywood, Cal., together with a loaded bag and a ring.

Miami Beach Low Interest Bonds Are Withdrawn
Miami Fla., Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Inability to sell $225,000 of improvement bonds caused the city council of Miami Beach to withdraw them from the market and authorize the sale of $1,250,000 at an increased rate of interest. Public bonds have been voted in an avalanche all over Florida in the last few months, the latest batch authorized by Miami for $11,500,000. The city of Miami Beach is to vote on a new issue of $2,500,000 tomorrow.

$1,000,000 Paid by us to stop Colds
We paid $1,000,000 for this way to stop colds. For this matches formula which W. H. Hill spent 25 years in developing.

It stops a cold in a day. It does all things necessary, and each in the best way known to science. Consider what that means. A cold may spread from one to another. Every contact is a threat. And nobody knows where a cold may lead to. Stop it with Hill's Cough-Sore-Lozenges. Have the tablets on hand. The sooner you start the quicker the cold will end.

Millions now employ this method. Nothing else compares. Don't let a cold run. Don't take chances with it. You will regret it in the most effective way if you get the genuine Hill's At your drug store.

JAMES O'DONNELL
[Chicago Tribune Press Staff]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 24
— Anti-Darwinian James O'Donnell was warned to keep their mouths shut by the public schools by 15,000 parents and teachers at their 66th annual convention. They represent $66,000 throughout the nation. A two-day meeting of the "National Association for the Advancement of Christian Education" was this evening business at the convention. Department of superintendent of National Education Association is working has been union, both formally and ever since the convention on Sunday.

As this southern city has exceptionally large number of teachers to the convention. This opposition to the anti-Darwinian, Herbert Spencer in Tennessee and right develop when the "evolution" came up. None did.

Language Is Clear
The language of the proposed legislation seeking to control the content matter of the curriculum was not obscure, but clear, and all the women crowding the Washington Auditorium knew what they were voting for. Applause for the resolution was enthusiastic.

"Only that education can said the resolution, "which under conditions appropriate age of the student, completely seek the answer to any problem. We would respectfully our fellow citizens that when seeking to control the content of the curriculum may interfere with the progress of national progress, it has not to alter, modify, or set aside mistake law of nature, or of God."

Before the convention had closed itself, Secretary of Herbert Hoover told the teachers that suppression would mean if the ultimate.

Warning from Hoover
 "Suppress our education
 even for a single generation,
 "and the most of our people die of starvation and intellectual spiritually they would slip

In his tribute to science, the secretary conceded that by the time it has made in the last century it has vastly increased the complexity of life, but it has at the same time put it, "greatly reduced the amount of human sweat." It has enlarged and widened the child's world, he said.

He added that it was not enough to shut their eyes to the greater and more complex reality in which science has impacted. "It is each oncoming generation that is facing the changing scene."

Other significant resolutions were:
1. Child labor: "The speed of such federal and state constitutional and statutory prevent the exploitation and promote the welfare of the children."

Faith in American Youth

4. Affirmation of faith in youth: "We bear our trust and essential cleanness, the straightness, the frankness and the decent idealism of Americanhood and young womanhood as our greatest obligation to our nation. Ours is the obligation to them. In developing the richness of personality and the nobility of character which we desire for our citizens as obedience to law, self-government and tolerance, we adults will serve youth themselves setting those examples."
